

Summary for Medically Speaking, Who Connects Your Dots?

By Jill Fandrich, PharmD

How can you “tune in” to the medical events surrounding you?

How can you become more educated before reaching a conclusion regarding current medical issues?

How can you “see through” the media’s persuasion and unorthodox medical propaganda?

Why are brilliant medical professionals really being censored?

Are you connecting your own dots?

Medically Speaking, Who Connects Your Dots? builds on the foundation of the need to think critically about what is happening medically in the world around you and even to you! Your eyes will be open about what the media is now permitted to “medically propagate” to you and for how long this has been occurring.

Critical thinking is an extremely vital process of analyzing information—from opposing sides! This method of thinking is based on asking questions from an unbiased perspective, equally weighing all the data. This allows you to analyze the entire scenario and become vastly informed thoroughly. You are then able to reach your own unprejudiced and objective conclusions without influence or persuasion from anyone else. You are in control of the information and how you respond.

By learning these techniques, you will gain control over your independence and individuality and begin thinking without persuasion. Not only will you be inspired, but you will also actually be an inspiration for others!

By internalizing these skills and strategies, you will be sure to reveal medical truth, led by your confident and influential example, and resist conformity, all while leaving a footprint that is sure to impact and enlighten future generations.