

Synopsis for When Leaders Don't Lead

Have you ever experienced a leader who isn't leading?

How about an employee or peer who isn't performing?

How do you respond to ineffective people?

How can you continue to grow and contribute under challenging circumstances?

When Leaders Don't Lead dives into difficult situations where you are faced with unmotivated or unskilled leaders. How do you stay productive when the one you seek guidance from isn't leading? Or maybe the leadership is biased, unskilled, or simply unmotivated. There are many reasons why a leader may not be effective, and it is time to uncover each situation and apply practical solutions for your successful and continued growth. When Leaders Don't Lead examines both sides of leadership scenarios, sharing stories and examples from dozens of perspectives. Part 1 uncovers inadequacies and concerns in leadership, while Part 2 reveals unmotivated or unwilling employees or peers not performing at their peak potential. Discover how to identify, acknowledge, and overcome situations involving ineffective people and launch yourself on an inspirational and rewarding pathway to success as you grow personally and professionally in the process.
